Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Stetz, in Cell Phone Handbook.

With regard to claims 1, 6, and 7, Stetz discloses an input (carrier) configured to receive from a first apparatus (phone) content ID (phone number, page 38 last paragraph) and first apparatus ID (ESN, page 38 last paragraph), and from a second apparatus (second phone) second apparatus ID (second ESN), judging the validity of all the IDs, (pages 38-39) and assigning customer information to the second apparatus ID (for billing, page 43), and outputting the customer information for receiving the identified content (the called number). Stetz discloses how cell phones work. In a cell network the second phone calls the first's number. When he does, his ESN is matches with his customer information for billing, and to allow the call to go through. He is further identified by caller ID to the first phone. When the first phone turns on, it is sending out its ID, and it's offered content, being its phone number, for others to purchase.

With regard to claims 2 and 3, Stetz discloses checking the validity of the broadcasting identification (SID, page 38).

With regard to claim 4, the first phone will ring to request the call ordered from the second phone.

With regard to claim 5, Stetz discloses over the air activation (page 50) where the carrier acquires user information from either phone.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
